Precertification

We review precertification (prior authorization) policies

Easy-to-access guidelines

Precertification can be complicated. Knowing the right place to start can make a big difference.

You can find complete information about when and where to submit precertification requests to Cigna Healthcare and our national ancillary providers by going to CignaforHCP.com > Resources > Precertification.

Updates

As a result of our precertification policy reviews, we make updates to our precertification list.

Codes may be subject to the following:

- Code editing.
- Benefit plan exclusions.
- Post-service review for coverage.

To view the complete list of services that require precertification:

Log in to CignaforHCP.com
> Resources
> Clinical Reimbursement Policies and Payment Policies

If you are not registered for the portal, go to CignaforHCP.com > Register.

New precertification check and dashboard features on CignaforHCP.com

For additional details, please refer to the following article:

Precertification check and dashboard features on cignaforhcp.com

Effective October 15, users with “Patient Search (Precertification & Benefits)” entitlement now have access to these features.

New capabilities at a glance:

- Get real-time results: Instantly confirm whether precertification is required for a service.
- Simplify your workflow: Eliminate manual searches. With just one query, the tool provides instant, up-to-date information using the latest procedure codes.
- Support documentation needs: Download a PDF summary when precertification is not required.
- Access any time: conveniently available 24/7
- Track submitted requests in a new dashboard: View the status of medical precertification requests submitted by phone, mail, or electronically
- Appeal denied requests directly in the portal: Submit appeals online for denied precertification requests—no need to call or fax.

Professional Evaluation and Management Coding Accuracy

Professional Evaluation and Management Coding Accuracy (R49)

Cigna Healthcare implemented a new Evaluation and Management (E/M) Coding Accuracy (R49) medical reimbursement policy on October 1, 2025. This policy will review certain claims billed with CPT E/M codes 99204-99205, 99214-99215, and 99244-99245 for billing and coding accuracy.

- Services may be adjusted by one level only for providers who our records indicate as having a consistent pattern of coding at a higher E/M level for routine services compared to their peers.
- Applies only to claims billed with level 4 and 5 Evaluation and Management (E/M) services from affected providers where the submitted billing information does not support level of service billed.
- Adjustments will be applied only to individual claim lines where the billing information does not substantiate the reported service level.
- Almost 99 percent of all in-network providers will remain unaffected by this policy, including more than 97 percent of providers who bill level 4 and 5 E/M codes.
- For adjusted claims, reconsideration process offered (details are on explanation of payments for affected claims); should not lead to material increase in appeals. Bypass process also available for providers with >5 claims adjusted.

Policy does not lead to claims being pended or denied, or delay patient care in any way. Rather than delaying payment and requesting supporting documentation for the billed code upon receipt of the claim, payment will be issued promptly for the lower-level adjusted code.

How claims are assessed

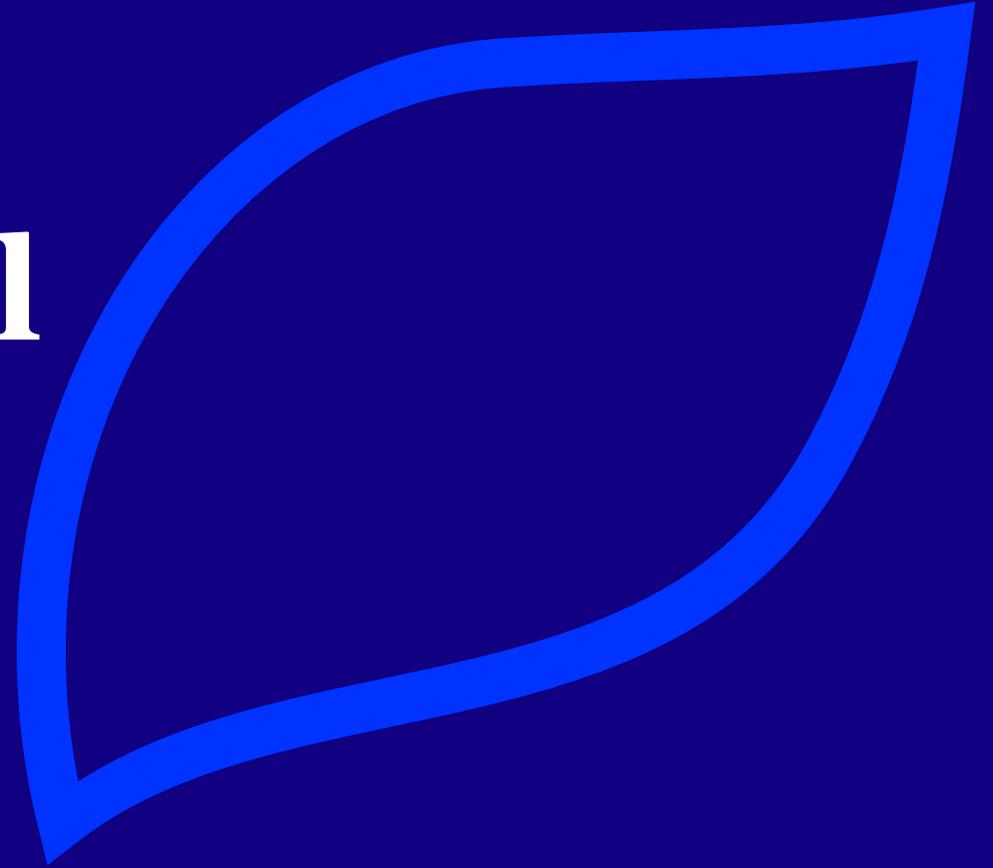

- To identify the small number of providers who may be affected by this policy update, Cigna Healthcare took a conservative approach and reviewed claims over a 12-month period, with a focus on providers who consistently billed diagnosis codes and higher-level E/M codes not typically associated with complex cases requiring additional decision-making time.
- Policy utilizes human-developed claim-based criteria as an initial screening mechanism to detect potential discrepancies, examining relevant claim data, associated diagnoses, and any additional services rendered during the same encounter.
- Individual claim reviews will continue to leverage this human-developed criteria, and will be supported by ClaimsXten, an industry-standard code editing platform that facilitates accurate claims processing in adherence to Cigna Healthcare's reimbursement policies. This process will also be subject to regular audits and will be adjusted as needed.
- Extra consideration to the added complexity that certain visits may entail across various services, age groups, and specialty types. This is accounted for when determining if a provider has a pattern of coding at a higher E/M level compared to peers.

Reconsideration

- Providers who believe their clinical documentation supports reimbursement for the originally submitted level for the E/M service can submit the customer's full record of the encounter to the secure Cigna Healthcare fax number 833.392.2092 for prompt review.
- Cigna Healthcare does not rely on algorithms to make final determinations. Claims submitted for reconsideration will be evaluated by certified coders. This ensures all documents relative to AMA E/M coding guidelines are considered, and a thorough coding review is completed, before a final determination is made.
- If the clinical documentation substantiate that the original codes were accurate as submitted, claims will be adjusted, and an updated explanation of payment (EOP) will be issued.
- Administrative appeal rights are available if the original determination is upheld, though we expect very few claims to warrant appeal.
- Providers who have experienced at least five adjusted claims, and believe they are billing in alignment with AMA guidelines, can request to have their claims bypassed from the policy by emailing EMCodingAccuracy@CignaHealthcare.com.

Outpatient hospital physical and occupational therapy site-of-care review

Outpatient hospital physical and occupational therapy site-of-care review

Beginning October 1, American Specialty Health® (ASH), a Cigna Healthcare® national ancillary provider, began managing the medical necessity review of outpatient hospital sites of care for Cigna Healthcare–contracted providers who render physical therapy and occupational therapy (PT/OT) services for patients with Cigna Healthcare commercial plans and Individual & Family Plans.* ASH will also be responsible for medical necessity review of requested PT/OT services.

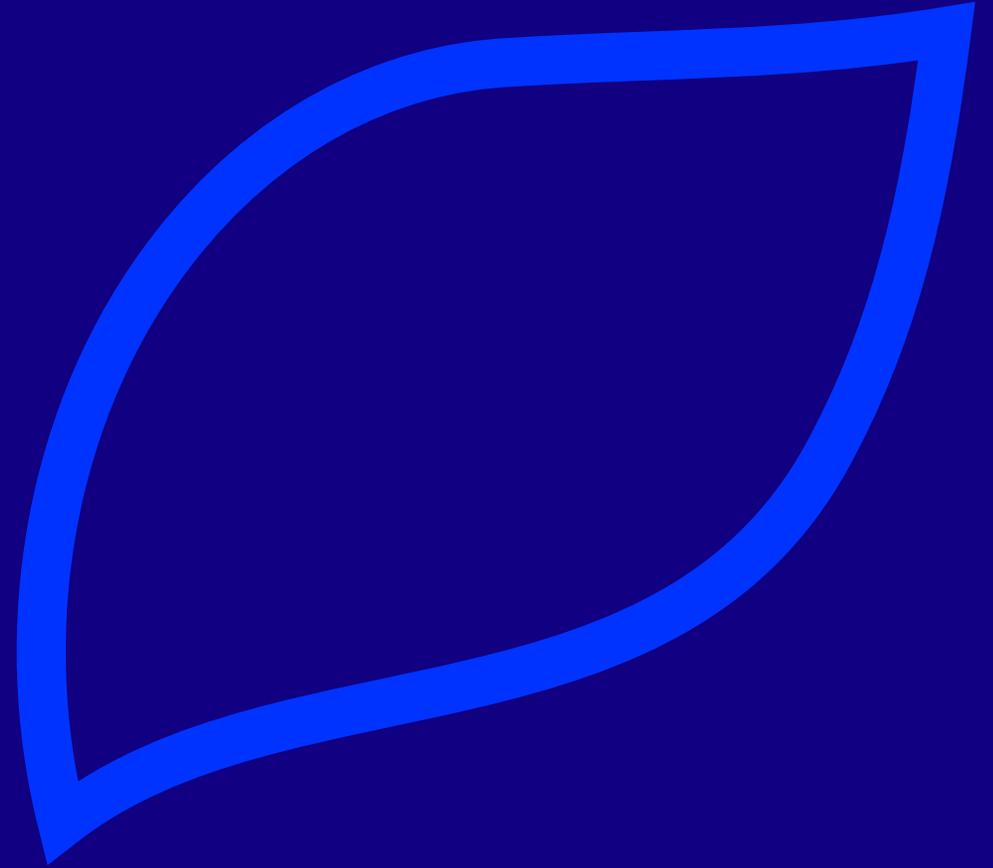

How the medical necessity review process works

- If you determine after the initial covered assessment/visit that the patient should continue receiving PT/OT services in an outpatient hospital setting, you can submit a medical necessity review request to ASH for approval.
- ASH will approve an outpatient hospital setting when it is medically necessary, as defined in the Site of Care: Outpatient Hospital Setting for Physical and Occupational Therapy – (0600) medical coverage policy.
- Medical necessity review request decisions will typically be made within one business day of receipt of all necessary clinical information.
- If ASH determines it is not medically necessary to continue PT/OT services in an outpatient hospital setting:
 - ✓ An ASH concierge team member will outreach to the patient to identify in-network PT/OT locations or virtual service options.
 - ✓ A letter will be mailed to both the provider and patient within one business day explaining the decision.

*Implementation for Individual & Family Plans is dependent on state regulatory requirements.

Virtual Care

Helping you deliver care

Virtual care (telehealth) coverage

We reimburse certain virtual care services per our Virtual Care Reimbursement Policy \(R31\). This policy continues to govern what we do and don't reimburse for telehealth.

More information is available at CignaforHCP.com/VirtualCare.

Reimbursement

Cigna Healthcare continues to reimburse covered services at 100% of face-to-face rates.

No updates to policy as a result of CMS changes

- Because Cigna Healthcare no longer has Medicare Advantage plans, changes in Medicare coverage do not result in any required changes for our Commercial line of business.
- As always, our clinical team will review the latest CMS coverage guidelines, industry standards, and feedback from providers to help inform potential changes.

Get reimbursed at the same rate as face-to-face visits

Common services reimbursable

Auto-recoupment policy (payment offsets)

Auto-recoupment policy

Expanded recoupment process

Auto-recoupment (i.e., payment offsets) for overpaid claims will be broadened, allowing for smoother and faster recoveries for certain claims beginning October 1, 2025.

Streamlined operations

Providers no longer need to process paper requests or mail checks, improving operational efficiency and reducing manual work.

Vendor managed offsets

Three vendors now handle the offset process, enhancing reliability and transparency in payments and claim management (Cotiviti, Johnson & Rountree Premium, Inc., and The Rawlings Company).

About the process

- Before an overpayment is offset, provider will receive a notification letter from one of the vendors.
- Provider will have opportunity to respond and take actions:
- Refund the requested overpayment amount in full. The overpayment will not be offset.
- Dispute the overpayment by contacting the vendor via the methods indicated in the notification letter. The vendor will respond to all disputes.*
- If provider does not respond, the overpayment will be offset as indicated in the letter.

Option to initiate the offset payment earlier

- To initiate the offset payment before the response time has elapsed, provider may contact the vendor via one of the methods listed in overpayment notification letter to start the process earlier.

How to view offset transactions

- Provider can access offset transaction details via an 835 electronic remittance advice transaction.
- Reviewing the remittance report (explanation of direct deposit activity).
- Logging in to the Cigna for Health Care Professionals Portal (CignaforHCP.com).
- Reviewing the explanation of payment document, when available.

• Note: Please continue working with all overpayment vendors for manual recoveries that require repayment via check because not all overpayments are eligible for offsetting.

* If the vendor confirms there is an overpayment, provider will be notified and given additional time to respond.
